

TODAY GREAT TO WALK IN THE REFORMED

Do You Like Shooting?
Tapir, Puma, Jaguar, Deer
Mexico Is the Place
And It's a Great Nation

By Arthur Brisbane
NOGALLES, ARIZ., Feb. 19.—
In Nogales once again, doorway connecting Mexico and the United States. Come here once, and you will come again. The Southern Pacific comes from Los Angeles via Colton, Redlands, Palm Springs, Indio, and Nogales to Yuma, where the marvelous fruits grow on the irrigated tablelands and on through Arizona via Phoenix,
capital of the state, Tucson,
then due south to Nogales.

At Tucson there is time to visit once more the admirable
University of Arizona, and see $1,500,000 hospital built for its employees by the Southern Pacific Railroad. A New Yorker,
Mr. Harrison, who has given away many millions wisely, gave $500,000 for the hospital's scientific equipment. Money could not be better spent, for there is no more important body of public servants than the railroad men.

It will interest Seward Cary,
George Milburn, Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., Averil Harriman and others interested in polo to know that the young men of Arizona university play polo as easily as Helen Wills plays tennis and Bobby Jones golf.
They intend to play in the East,
and practicing 12 months in the year, should develop men as good as Paddy of California.

This car carries an amazing assortment of firearms on the way to Mexico, with Robert Hodge, of Dodge, Cal., alfalfa ranger, Kemper Campbell, Los Angeles lawyer, and Seward Prishane, who, at this stage of his career, holds that more fitting production is a rifle with a telescope mounted on it, that can kill a mountain sheep two and a half miles away. The opinion of the mountain sheep would be different.

If shooting interesting animals or catching fish appeals to you, bring your guns, ammunition, tackle and money and spend your leisure in Mexico.
At Altar, a 45-mile motor drive from Nogales, you will find excellent deer shooting.
And at Guaymas, southern extremity of Governor Elias State of Sonora, you catch fish in the heart of California, in quantity and quality unknown elsewhere,
as many as your boat will hold.
At Navajon, a little farther south, you find wild ducks and geese, in flocks of thousands.

Mountain sheep and goats,
that seem to fascinate sportsmen, are plentiful in Mexico. If you prefer more ferocious game
you may shoot mountain lions,
as big as a fair sized tiger, and jaguars, the Mexican Tigris, as ferocious and dangerous as any animal that kills for a living.
You may also kill tapirs, although it would take a hard heart to shoot that gentle animal with a long nose. The legal side to the commissioner said
nothing, but he has been audibly
stopped by evolution on its way to become an elephant.

Also there are thousands of wild boars that, according to the British idea, should be killed with a lance from the back of a horse, according to orthodox
"pig-sticking" rules. It is safer,
however, to shoot a big boar with a soft nose bullet that spreads when it strikes to make the wound as wide as the palm of your hand.
If you fall off your horse
while "pig-sticking" the boar with his long tusks can and will tear you wide open, as Venus learned to her sorrow when the boar ripped the lovely white flank of Adonis.

Most interesting and a fine example for the sports American citizen is the necessary small wild pig traveling in great bands through the brush, and able to make himself invincible
by force of numbers.
Frequently to when the word
"fear" and "submission" are unknown, will even fight a man
fearless enough to attack them.
American processes with their votes could defend themselves marvelously also if they would learn from the humble pig's willing to be killed, but not to be deprived of its rights.

If game interests you, come to Mexico. You will realize that it is a nation with a game
the Southern Pacific will carry you all down the magnificent Pacific coast along the Gulf of California and on down to Guadalupe.
Thence the National Railroads of Mexico take you over the mountains to the city of Mexico, nearly two miles up in the air, and to all other parts of the country.

Apart from the sport of killing inferior animal countries,
Mexico will interest and delight
you. It is a nation with which the United States should be better acquainted and always remain united in close friendship.
It is a country of great interest, with a proud and capable

Girl Is Warned Not to Tell of

Up on Resorts

The vice investigation took precedence over all other mat-

disclosures of a startling nature were made to the authorities.
A 17-year-old girl was threatened with death and application for orders of Commissioner Hultman,
a lieutenant from police headquarters and private detectives were sent to several Black Bay rooms.
Capt. Jeremiah J. Mohr of the Back Bay division and Sgt. A.
Harold Watkins and Thomas Harvey conferred at headquarters with Leo Schwartz, the department's legal adviser.

Great secrecy surrounded Commissioner Hultman's order directing the lieutenant and detectives
in the Back Bay district.
The conference at which the Back Bay police leaders with Schwartz was one of a mysterious nature. The
legal side to the commissioner said
nothing, but he has been audibly

TREND OF STOCK PRICES UPWARD

New York, Feb. 19.—The stock market displayed a persistent inclination to work higher in quiet trading today, although it was hampered by occasional selling.
The list opened higher, wavered toward the end of the first period under the influence of pressure against U. S. Steel and American Can, but soon turned upward again, and in the afternoon some early advances had been slightly extended.
Gains of a point or so were common among the coppers, food shares, miscellaneous industrials and utilities, but oils and zinc mostly lagged.

A few issues rose 2 to 3 or more points, including Byers, Colorado Fuel, de Post, Loew's Allied Chem-ical, Frisco, Texas, Brooklyn-Manhattan, Chase and Manhattan, while Worthington and Auburn were pushed up 4 to 5.

Land and Sea

Heavy, sticky snow, borne on a half-gale from the northeast, crippled shipping and transportation today as the storm continued to rage over New England.
City-bound workers sloshed through slush in the suburbs and motoring was precarious.

In only one case a motorist was killed. Miss Katherine Pennington, 19, of Boston, who was driving a Buick, was killed by a sliding auto, by a sliding auto. In City hospital she was found to have two broken bones in her left leg and a broken finger.
The pedestrian, who was a nurse on her right leg, was walking on the sidewalk, where she was hit by the car of William P. Kelly of Orange St., Quincy, by Benjamin Lutz of Cape St. Vincent, sent the latter upon the sidewalk.

Traffic Officer Joseph E. Conlon was knocked from his traffic box at Boylston and Dartmouth sts. by a sliding auto, which was in collision with a taxi, and was taken to City Hospital.

Illness of Melba Puzzles Doctors

Sydney, N. S. W., Feb. 19 (AP)—Physicians attending Dame Nellie Melba, Australian prima donna, who is gravely ill, are greatly puzzled by the nature of her illness.
It is said that the soprano just year in Cairo passed up a mysterious ailment which caused an infection. She consulted specialists in Germany, Austria, France and England in an effort to effect a cure.

British Dole Fund
Vote Increases
London, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Labor Government's request for an additional £20,000,000—about $100,000,000—for the dole fund was put to its second reading in the House of Commons today with a majority of 81. An increase of about 30 votes over the majority by which the measure was supported on its first reading. The present fund of about $300,000,000 is virtually exhausted.

SENATE PUSHES MRS. BLEAKNEY VETS' LOAN BILL IS SENTENCED

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—Beginning consideration today of the veterans' loan bill, the Senate was urged by its advocates to speed it to a vote before nightfall.
Senators Cullen, Rep. Michigan, and Harrison, Dem. Mississippi, pleaded for quick action to get the measure to President Hoover, whose veto is regarded at the Capitol as certain.
However, an attempt by Harrison to get a limit on debate was blocked by Senator Reed, Rep. Pennsylvania, an opponent of the measure. The galleries were packed as the Senate prepared to pass the bill through over the expressed opposition of President Hoover, Senator Hiram, Republican, Connecticut, one of the small minority band opposing the legislation, opened the debate, recalling his own war record.

It would require for Congress to imply that the veterans are insatiable in their demands," he said. "I have no sympathy with this legislation that is being introduced through Congress."
Bingham stated the opposition of the President and read editorials from some Democratic newspapers supporting that position.

DEER ISLAND PRISONER SAYS HE IS KILLER

Shot Dorchester Officer Last April in Drug Store Robbery, He Asserts

A confession to the murder of Patrolman Franklin B. Dreyer of Dorchester is in the hands of police, it was learned today by the Boston Evening American.

It was obtained from a Deer Island prisoner, who was taken to the custody of a United States marshal last week when the prisoner whose confession the police now have secured a confession of the crime.
If it proves true the confession will prove an investigation underway since last April when Patrolman Dreyer, father of three small children, was shot down at the rear of the Spaulding Pharmacy, Adams and Adams sts., Dorchester. The "break" in the investigation came last week when the prisoner whose confession the police now have secured a confession of the crime.

Controlled by the latter, the prisoner retraced his accusation and denied any knowledge of the crime.
Confessing a two-hour grilling by Inspector Donovan, the prisoner said he was the killer and the confession was taken by a state's attorney.

Apparent discrepancies failed to satisfy Donovan, however, and he expects to use several days for corroboration.

PEOPLE BREDIT FLETS ABOUT DRESS SIE'LL WEAR TO CHAIR

AFFECTED FACE OF USED FOR THE 22-Year-Old Mother Merly Shrugs Her Shoulders When Board Fails to Grant Stay

Newcastle, Pa., Feb. 19 (AP)—Apparently more concerned about the new black silk dress she is to wear on the trip to the death house than in the fate that awaits her there, Mrs. Irene Schroeder, 22, blonde gunwoman, today prepared for her removal to the prison in Bellefonte.

The former waitress, mother of a 7-year-old boy, merely shrugged her shoulders when informed that the State board of pardons in Harrisburg had refused her petition for commutation of the death sentence. The same unknown was shown by W. Glenn Dugan, dapper former Wheeling (W. Va.) auto and insurance salesman, under sentence to die with her in the electric chair Monday morning.

Dugan's doom also was sealed by the pardon board yesterday. His refusal to sue for the writ of habeas corpus had deserted several years ago.

The couple were under extra guard today as Sheriff Frank Johnson secretly planned their removal to the penitentiary. Johnson refused to say when the trip would make.

Attorneys pointed out today that the absence of recommendation for commutation limited Governor Pinchot's ability to grant clemency to granting a further stay of execution.

Mrs. Schroeder and Dugan were convicted last March of shooting to death Corp. Brady Paul when he sought to question them concerning a store holdup.

I am ready to do anything I can for her."

Judge Hammond granted a stay of sentence pending appeal to the Supreme Court. He disregarded an impassioned plea for probation, made by Atty. Abraham Webber, Boston, counsel for the defendant.

Mrs. Bleakney displayed no emotion when sentence was pronounced. She was accused of striking Mrs. John Holbrook, 41, of Brighton, with her automobile last April, and charged in her plea that she had been stopped and Mrs. Holbrook walked into it.

She said the woman was not hurt and disappeared before she could park her car and return to the scene.

"Bootleggers and street walkers are allowed to go about the streets free and there being no evidence of moral turpitude in this case, I would like to ask probation," said Atty. Webber.

His sentence would be a stigma on this defendant for life.

Small Estate Left by Gen. EDWARDS

"Donoroving," His Westwood Home, Said to Be Valued at Only $40,000

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

The will of Maj.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, to be filed in Dedham today or tomorrow, will reveal a surprisingly small estate, it was learned today.

"Donoroving," the general's estate at Westwood, and his holdings in the William Edwards Co., Cleveland, O., wholesale grocery concern, constituted practically all the fortune, it was stated.

According to Judge Joseph T. McCool, co-executor of the Letta Crabtree estate with Gen. Edwards and Judge Chase, the will is in a safety deposit vault in the Old Colony Trust.

From authoritative sources it was learned that Gen. Edwards was not nearly as wealthy as the time of his death as was generally believed.

DONOROVING WORTH $40,000

"The public will be greatly surprised when the size of the estate is revealed," it was stated.

Instead of being worth $100,000 as reported, "Donoroving" was valued at only about $40,000, and it was thought unlikely it would bring this amount, at the present time.

Wife, Charles A. Oils of Cleveland, sister of the general, and Col. Hyatt are to be the sole beneficiaries under the will, which includes small bequests to servants.

"Donoroving" is to be sold within a year, it is understood, the furniture and fixtures to go to Mrs. Oils with the exception of a few pieces bequeathed to Col. Hyatt's daughter, Miss Kate Hyatt, and a few other friends.

MANY FINE TROPHIES

Col. W. Hyatt and his laughter are to remain at the Westwood estate for the purpose of promoting the sale.

The famous "Donoroving" which has been visited by many former members of the Yankee Division and the numerous trophies it contains, are to be given to a historical society.

It is understood that the trophies are to be given to a historical society, in the finest collections in the country, will go to the same society.

The will was drawn shortly after the general's death, which occurred in 1929, and it is said to be contained on one and a quarter pages.

Bequests are included to Gen. Edwards' chauffeur, who was with him many years, the maid of Mrs. Edwards, the general's secretary and other members of the household.

Temperatures will remain around the freezing mark, the officials said, with at least some clouds over New England tomorrow, even if the snowfall should halt.

PHONE LINES DEAD

In Arlington 300 lines that affected 1500 telephone of residences and business offices were disconnected for more than 10 hours by a wire break near the Arlington Center and Arlington Heights.

Windows in Arlington, Lexington, Concord, Burlington and other sections of Middlesex county remained dark from the snow and broke, but no serious damage was reported.

The excellent number of fishing craft in months tied up at the fish pier to the damage of their crews.

Those skippers who did brave the storm reported mountainous seas outside the harbor.

Even in the inner harbor the heavy, blinding snow gave the ferries trouble.

Reducing for Press Play, Wolheim Lost Health

LOUIS WOLHEIM AND MARY ASTOR
"TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS"

LOUIS WOLHEIM
"DANGER LIGHTS"

LOUIS WOLHEIM AND PHYLLIS HAVER
"THE SHADY LADY"

LOUIS WOLHEIM, who has thrilled movie fans in "harbored" roles in many of the greatest war stories, succumbed to an appendicitis operation in Hollywood yesterday. Wolheim underwent an operation on Monday. His resistance failed. Wolheim was discovered by Lionel Barrymore in a chance meeting in a New York cafe. He had been a mathematics teacher in a preparatory school. The nose that made Wolheim famous was broken when he played on the Cornell University football team against the University of Pennsylvania, in 1904. His greatest success was as "Capt. Flagg," the hard boiled hero of "What Price Glory." In recent months Wolheim was reducing to play a lead in picture dealing with newspaper life. The reducing wrecked him physically.

3 MONTHS FOR ALFONSO BUYS 'RUM QUEEN' FRENCH VILLA

Brockton, Feb. 18—Mrs. Jennie Pappas, 38, called "the queen of bootleggers" by the police, whom she in turn accuses of wholesale grafting, was found guilty in Superior Court today and jailed for liquor law violation.

In a sealed verdict the jury convicted her of keeping and exposing liquor for sale, and Judge Buttersworth sentenced her to three months in the House of Correction in Plymouth and fined her $100. It was her second offense.

The girl, according to testimony by State Police Corporal George Rapoport, accused the police of protecting 43 speakeasies within a vicar's throw of headquarters. She pointed out a number of them to Rapoport.

When arrested in December the 38-year-old woman with bobbed hair was dressed in men's clothing and was seated in an automobile in which were 10 gallons of alcohol.

She told Rapoport her arrest was due to a bootlegger feud.

Madrid, Feb. 18 (AP)—Premier Azana's new cabinet today completed the details of taking over the government with the administration of the crisis to three ministers who were not sworn in yesterday. The cabinet planned its first formal meeting at 6 o'clock this evening.

Parliament will not have the power demanded by the Republic. Azana and part of the cabinet desired the body to be able to say whether Spain should continue a monarchy, or become a republic.

84-YEAR-OLD WOMAN FOUND STARVING

Bad Man Wolheim Had Soft Spot—for 'Sammy'

FILM MAN'S BRILLIANT SCHOLAR

Regarded Money With Contempt, Saved Only to Provide for Wife

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor Universal Service.

Hollywood, Feb. 19—Today Wolheim stopped to wipe away a tear and give a thought to Louis Wolheim.

Louis Wolheim, the bad man of the screen who was the good man to his many, many friends, had answered the final call.

We couldn't believe that Louis, with whom we had played bridge just two weeks ago at Bobb Dantes' beach house, was gone. It didn't seem possible that Louis, who always advised us about motion picture conditions in his dry, humorous way, the Louis who knew Shakespeare from cover to cover, who had read every book on philosophy, who was an expert in mathematics and who had given up a professorship at Cornell University to come into the movies, had passed on.

CARED LITTLE FOR MONEY

We will all miss Louis. The fans who adored him in "All Quiet on the Western Front," who loved him in "Two Arabian Knights," and who remembered him in "The Face in the Fog" and in Marion Davies' picture, "Little Old New York," all felt an affection and sympathy for him even when he was wicked.

I could not help but think today of a conversation I had with him a month before he died. He always called his wife "Sammy" and his love for her was the big thing in his life.

"I never want to be rich," he said. "I wouldn't worry if tomorrow I lost every cent I had in the world. I wouldn't even save money if it weren't for Sammy. She keeps telling me that some day I may not be able to work. I don't want to make her unhappy, but money doesn't mean a lot to me. We can't take it with us and the only good it does is to help our friends."

RESIGNED OPTIMISM

Before Louis Wolheim closed his tired eyes after the operation performed at the Osteopathic Hospital he thought of Sammy. He would be worried she must think he was getting well.

Wolheim, if in his subconscious mind he didn't know the call was near. Yet the frail, little, blue-eyed woman who he married and promised to love and cherish must have been frightened. He held her hand, smiled with his dying eyes and told her, "It's going to be all right. I am going to get well."

But Sammy, terrified from the beginning, had the feeling that her husband would never get well.

COURT HOLDS 2 FOR TRIAL

Mrs. Mollie Federol, of Massachusetts, and Richard Riordan, of Boston, charged with extortion of $1500 from Albert Alberti, North End union official, were held for a hearing March 2 today in municipal court.

The pair were arrested two weeks ago on complaint of Alberti. Mrs. Federol furnished bail of $1000 and Riordan was sent to Charles at jail for lack of bail.

Free Speech Bill Killed by Senate

On a roll-call vote, 12 to 23, the Senate killed the bill which would allow persons to speak on Boston Common or other public places of cities and towns of the State without the requirement of securing a special permit for each purpose from the local authorities.

The bill occasioned the longest debate of the year yesterday in the Senate. It had already passed the House by a substantial margin. Its opponents contended that the bill would limit home rule power and that it would open the way for unbridled discussion by radicals and other opponents of government.

Emerson Girls in Play to Aid Conrade

The Phi Mu Gamma sorority of Emerson college will produce George Bernard Shaw's play "Candida" tonight in the Elizabeth Peabody theater. The proceeds will go to a scholarship fund to enable a non-sorority girl to continue her studies at Emerson.

Taking part in the play are Lillian E. Munson, Dorothy Kneek, Mildred Jones, Lucie May Sharon, Annette Mundy, and Molly MacDonald.

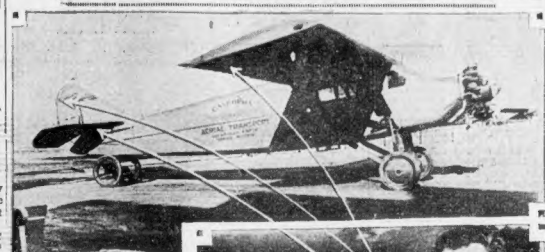

Mildred Foley Tremple is director.

1500 Ship Workers Expect Yard Recall

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—Fifteen hundred shipyard workers will return to work with the New York Shipbuilding Co. at Camden, N. J., as soon as the United States shipping board approves the $2,000,000 contract for building the "Paul" ship, head of the United States Navy.

The workers were ordered held for hearing today. Mrs. Federol was freed in bail of $1000 pending trial. (Staff photo.)

PLANE PROVES SAFE AS CRADLE

VET HOSPITAL BILL REPORTED

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Senate finance committee today favorably reported the Smoot bill authorizing a lump sum appropriation of $25,877,000 for construction of additional veterans' hospital facilities.

The measure also would provide a 50 per cent cut in allowances to World War veterans while in hospitals, as recommended by Veterans' Administrator Hines.

Administrator Hines has a tentative program for location of the hospitals. Under this, $20,000,000 would be spent for 4000 beds in 12 new hospitals and 26 extensions. It would take care of the hospital program up to 1935.

The 50 per cent provision was placed in the bill to discourage veterans remaining in hospitals, and more particularly soldiers homes. They are to be cured.

No allowance, however, would be reduced below $20 a month and the full compensation would be restored upon discharge from the hospital.

Married veterans compensation would be cut as well as the single, but the remainder of the full allowance would be given to their wives and children.

Hold in Extortion Case

Gloucester, Feb. 19—Alcortina of Edith M. Hatch, night operator at the Gloucester exchange, was responsible for discovering a fire in the business district and saving a man, his wife, and four small children.

Mrs. Hatch's timely act and her cool judgment displayed through the excitement prompted police officials to call her act to the attention of the telephone company officials today.

She was alone at 3:05 o'clock when a light appeared on the switchboard. Mrs. Hatch attempted to answer the call but was unable to get any response. The light kept flicking. After making every effort to hear a voice on the other end of the line, and believing that there might have been burglars breaking into the restaurant, she sent an emergency telephone call to police headquarters. She told Sgt. Edmund Cronin that she believed there was trouble at 41 Main.

Sgt. Cronin dispatched Patrolmen Alfred Anderson and George Nira in the address where they found the Burrells' luncheonette in flames. They sounded an alarm and then attempted to get up stairs to the second floor, where six people, including four small children, were asleep.

BOTH DRIVEN BACK

They were driven back several times by heavy smoke. Finally they reached the second floor, where they succeeded in arousing the tenants and bringing them to the street in safety.

The damage is estimated at $200.

Curley Bomb Threat Unknown to Police

Supt. of Police Crowley, when asked concerning the report that Mayor Curley had received a threatening letter, stated that the police had not yet been informed of the matter and would take no steps until their attention was directed officially.

Curley's demand for unemployment relief or public buildings would be doomed, was the report. No guard has been established by the police around any public building. Supp. Crowley said.

PIEFUL STORY REVEALED BY COLLAPSE

Loses Long Battle to Provide Food to Keep Himself and Boarder Alive

In Cambridge Municipal Hospital, dying from starvation, Mrs. Elizabeth Schofield, 80, today gave up her long battle, to exist without an appeal for charity.

She collapsed in her room at 600 Franklin st., Cambridge, and at the hospital her name was placed on the danger list while police began a search for relatives.

Robert Garrison, 65, a boarder with her since long before her husband died 20 years ago, told police a pitiful story of how the two sought to eke out their existence.

MADE FUDGE

He said they had been without money and food for a long time and that Mrs. Schofield finally went away for free instructions on how to make fudge, which they hoped they could sell.

With the few cents they had they bought sugar and cocoa with which to make the fudge. Garrison made it and the aged woman went into the streets trying to peddle it.

In three days she made 40 cents worth. Out of that money they bought a loaf of bread and meat and sugar and cocoa. They ate the bread and cocoa and made more fudge.

CATCHED COLD

Last Saturday Mrs. Schofield had a sore foot and could not put on her shoe. She wrapped it in cloth and went out to sell more fudge.

She caught cold and with a few cents left they bought a bottle of cough medicine.

From Saturday night until last night she had eaten nothing, Garrison said. She collapsed when she went to a shelf to get the medicine. He showed and a neighbor summoned a police ambulance.

Boy Bag Snatcher Given Probation

ENGLAND TELLS CHAPLIN AS HER HERO

London, Feb. 19 (AP)—A shy little man with elegant feet was England's greatest hero today. He is Charlie Chaplin, of course, hero for the second time since he left his London studio to seek his fortune 25 years ago.

Ever since he became known he was returning the honors as he maintained a barrage about him and today they followed him with a bulletin from his ship to London. A tremendous welcome began as he stepped off the boat at Plymouth and it continued as the boat sailed down through the country, side on a schedule the movie fans knew by heart.

Chaplin was in holiday mood, peering before the cameras at Plymouth with Capt. Malcolm Campbell, the automobile racer, and Steve Donohue, the boxer.

"I've got four months to spare," he told the reporters, "and I'll probably visit Paris, Madrid and Berlin."

There and a tumultuous crowd at Paddington station when Chaplin arrived, and policemen surrounded the little movie star to protect him from the enthusiasm of his admirers. From the station he went direct to his hotel, where the royal suite had been reserved.

As the policemen conveyed him to his automobile, Charlie waved his hat at the crowd and, climbing on a fender, scrambled to the roof of the car.

The cheering people surged about and across reached out to shake his hand, almost pulling him from his perch. He regarded the salute, however, and as the car moved away he squatted on the roof, waving his derby and cane.

Wild to Rest Under His Favorite Tree

New York, Feb. 19 (AP)—Governor Warren Wilder, former president of the Dutchess Publishing Company and a New Hampshire State legislator, died here yesterday at the age of 65.

Stricken with tuberculosis in middle life, Mr. Wilder defied doctors who advised him to live in the West and returned to New York. His body will be cremated and buried under his favorite maple tree at Timberland farm, East Rutledge, N. H.

Congress Will Omit Washington's Speech

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—The long-standing custom of reading George Washington's farewell address to Congress is to be broken by the White House when it observes the first President's birthday anniversary Monday.

Instead of the usual practice, Representative Beck of Pennsylvania, noted as an orator, will deliver his address on the first President. The birth date falls on Sunday.

Fan Gets $1000 For Game He Did Not See

Chicago, Feb. 19 (AP)—A football fan got $1000 yesterday for not attending the Notre Dame-Northwestern game at Evanston last fall. He is Frank C. Leviton, who was taken out of his seat by a policeman. Leviton's ticket had been stolen, but Leviton didn't know anything about it. He used Northwestern University for $100,000 and settled for $1000.

NEW 'TEETH' TO PREVENT STOCK FRAUD URGED

Prominent brokers, lawyers and business men appeared before the legislative committee on banks and banking today and urged putting new teeth in the "Blue Sky" laws intended to prevent "stock" fraud and the selling of worthless securities.

Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner was present to listen to the arguments and to make recommendations to the committee.

The legislators had before them the section of Governor Ely's natural dealing with this subject and declaring that, with millions of dollars lost annually by Massachusetts citizens in worthless securities, something must be done with the law or its administration.

REVEALED BY AMERICAN Several bills were up for consideration at the hearing, all aimed at correcting evils revealed by the Boston Evening American in its campaign against stock frauds last year, when brought about drastic action by State officials in numerous cases.

Edward G. Morris, a State stock broker for 37 years, argued for his own bill, which would forbid sale of stocks other than those dealt in on an approved exchange or at public auction sanctioned by the Department of Public Utilities.

"If this bill becomes law, it will save millions for investors and prevent unscrupulous brokers and salesmen from tricking the public," he said.

DOG TAX IS FOILED BY BOY'S LOYAL PAIR

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 19 (AP)—Dogs, plain or pedigreed, were free today of the threat of a $10 license tax each because of the persuasiveness of Neale Stinner, 16-year-old home page, who has a black shepherd and "just a plain dog."

When the tax proposal came up Stinner was permitted to mount the speaker's rostrum.

"There ain't no better friend of a boy than his dog," he said. "There ain't no justice in this proposition. It's those school teachers who are behind this bill."

The bill was lost.

When the tax proposal came up Stinner was permitted to mount the speaker's rostrum.

"There ain't no better friend of a boy than his dog," he said. "There ain't no justice in this proposition. It's those school teachers who are behind this bill."

The bill was lost.

DOG TAX IS FOILED BY BOY'S LOYAL PAIR

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 19 (AP)—Dogs, plain or pedigreed, were free today of the threat of a $10 license tax each because of the persuasiveness of Neale Stinner, 16-year-old home page, who has a black shepherd and "just a plain dog."

When the tax proposal came up Stinner was permitted to mount the speaker's rostrum.

"There ain't no better friend of a boy than his dog," he said. "There ain't no justice in this proposition. It's those school teachers who are behind this bill."

TO CURE ANGINA AND GANGRENE

Chicago, Feb. 19 (AP)—Science has found a way to watch a blood corpuscle make a 62,500-mile journey as it passes through the blood vessels of a human body.

Dr. R. William McClellan of Chicago told the Chicago Medical Society last night that this could be accomplished by means of motion pictures and that development of the method would make it possible for science to treat "such almost incurable diseases of angina pectoris and gangrene, both induced by derangement of the blood flow."

The doctor said the fast was made possible by introducing fluids which can be photographed by the X-ray. He estimated that it all the blood vessels of the human body were placed end to end they would reach two and a half times around the world.

Don't say, "It can't be done," until you've tried a Wank Ad.

FRENCH NAVAL PLANS ARE HIT BY ITALY

Torino, Feb. 19 (AP)—French enthusiasm for a bigger fleet is considered in official quarters here as a set-back to efforts for disarmament and permanent peace.

Nothing has occurred to move Italy from her long-standing determination to maintain naval parity with France.

In well-informed circles it is said that Italy is ready for a long build-up holiday if France were to put on still is prepared to duplicate every new fighting unit France puts on the sea. Italy prefers a naval holiday to a naval race, it is asserted, but takes the position that France is forcing the issue with her present naval program.

Officials here have commented that France alone is out of tune with the world-wide hymn of peace through disarmament. France, it is explained here, never has been forced by Italy into what appears to be her trend toward a naval race. Government circles have expressed a belief that the world is beginning to realize that France instead of Italy is responsible for the present situation.

Paris, Feb. 19 (AP)—Conversations which R. L. Cridle, British military expert, was having here, which concerned Franco-Italian naval differences, have resulted in "positive progress," it was said in official circles here today.

Dictator Sought to Stop Din in Mexico

Mexico City, Feb. 19 (AP)—The "League for the Defense of Peace" today requested Gen. Antonio Velasco, traffic department head, to establish a "dictatorship" against noise.

The league asserted that traffic noise is responsible for deafness and cerebral disorders, impedes concentration of thought and retards mental development of children.

KONJOLA WHAT LADY NEEDED

"After My Experience, I Cannot Recommend This Medicine Too Highly," Says Boston Lady

Wherever Konjola, the new and different medicine, is known, there are men and women without number who gladly tell that they found in this medicine of 32 ingredients their first and only relief.

MRS. ANNIE GOODWIN

Konjola, a compound without alcohol, nerve-deadening drugs, or heart-depressing chemicals, attacks at their very source the life of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Konjola cleanses and stimulates the splanchnic and renal system and vigor to the entire system. Read what this mother medicine did for Mrs. Annie Goodwin, 114 Broadway, Chelsea, Boston, and then determine to get all the facts about Konjola. Visit the Konjola man, ask questions, find out what Konjola has done, and then you will be the judge. Here is what Mrs. Goodwin said to the Konjola man, who is at Konjola's Drug Store, 114 Broadway, Boston:

"Konjola did more for me than I ever dreamed any one medicine could do. For about four months I suffered dreadfully with rheumatism. My limbs were swollen until I was helpless and confined to bed. A physician told me my husband had to help me turn in bed. A friend told me to try Konjola. He thought Konjola would only make me worse. But by the time I finished this first bottle I was out of bed, and every day I was feeling better. After a few more bottles, I am now completely cured. I cannot recommend this medicine too highly. Surely such an enthusiastic statement from a patient of Boston should be convincing proof for many sufferers."

Now the Konjola man is at Konjola's Drug Store, 114 Broadway, Boston, where you will find the Konjola man, who is at Konjola's Drug Store, 114 Broadway, Boston, and then determine to get all the facts about Konjola. Butler's Finger in His Ear

WHEN MAJ.-GEN. SMEDLEY D. BUTLER visited Chicago and Buffalo he was besieged by photographers and reporters, to all of whom he turned a deaf ear.

BUTLER HAS NOT TOLD ADAMS NEW BLOOD FOR BAN JOHNSON

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—Neither Sec. Adams nor Maj.-Gen. Ben H. Fuller, commander of the Marine Corps, has received notification of Maj.-Gen. Smedley D. Butler's intention to retire from the corps next fall.

Butler, who was reprimanded recently for remarks considered a slur on President Roosevelt, and Buffalo he was besieged by photographers and reporters, to all of whom he turned a deaf ear.

Butler has been in the marine corps for 22 years. He was eligible for retirement at the close of 30 years' service. Butler's base pay is $8000 a year. His retirement pay would be $8000.

Sneezes So Hard 3 of His False Teeth Go Into Lung

Toronto, Feb. 19 (AP)—A violent sneeze in the north woods four months ago caused Victor Brander, lumber merchant, to miss three of his false teeth.

Later, a pain in his left lung caused his physician to make a close X-ray examination. A dental plate, more than an inch long, was removed from Brander's mouth yesterday by Dr. R. B. McMillan.

SEN. CARAWAY SNUBS NEGRO'S RELIEF PLEA

New York, Feb. 19 (AP)—The New York World today quoted letters indicating that Senator Thomas H. Caraway of Arkansas had curtly terminated correspondence with a critic of his drought policy under the mistaken impression that the critic was a negro.

O. G. Halliburton, Ft. Worth, Tex., it was, wrote Senator Caraway expressing his and his colleague Senator Joe T. Robinson, because neither Government nor Red Cross drought aid had been extended to Texas.

CARAWAY'S REPLY.
The senator's reply, dated Feb. 2 and written on Senate stationery, was quoted as follows:

"I have your letter in which you complain about wanting hungry people fed and talking about having seen hungry people in West Texas."

"Yes; and the first appeal made to this government for relief was made for drought sufferers in Texas; and it was while people that made it. But the rest of you. If they had gotten it, would have been fed also. It is strange that a Negro always finds something to complain about, although his immediate wants are cared for."

"I should be very glad indeed if you would confine your correspondence to people of your own race."

SHOULD BE RETIRED.
Halliburton's answer, under date of February 16, was quoted as characterizing the Senator's letter as "undignified, contumacious and insulting" and suggesting that he should discharge his public office "without distinction of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

The answer suggested Caraway's retirement to private life would gain public gratitude.

CARDINAL IN FINE HEALTH

Returning from an 18-day West India cruise, the steamship Lady Rodier of the Canadian National steamships, arrived in port yesterday afternoon from Nassau, Kingston and Bermuda, berthing at Commonwealth Pier. Eighteen of her passengers landed here, including the Rev. John H. Harrigan, pastor of St. Ambrose's Church, Field Corners, who stopped off at Nassau and paid his respects to Cardinal O'Connell, quartered at the famous Hermitage. Father Harrigan said the Cardinal was in the best of health and was enjoying his mid-winter vacation.

One of Einstein's Theories Disputed

New York, Feb. 19 (IN)—Richard S. McCaffery, professor of metallurgy at the University of Wisconsin, today disagreed with one of Einstein's theories—not the famous theory dealing with relativity—but a theory of the relation between diffusion rate and viscosity of dilute solutions.

"Experimental results do not entirely confirm this theory," said Professor McCaffery in a report delivered before the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, meeting.

48 Atlantic Fliers Are Welcomed Home

Genoa, Feb. 19 (AP)—Gen. Italo Balbo, who led a squadron of airplanes from Italy to Brazil, came home in triumph today aboard the seamer Conte Rosso. He and his 47 companions were greeted by a wildly cheering crowd. Gen. Balbo sent his message to Premier Mussolini:

"Our first home coming sentiment is one of gratitude for Il Duce. Viva Mussolini, viva Fascist Italy."

Taken by Death

THOMAS W. HEADLEY, dean of the readmen of the Boston Evening American circulation department, died in City Hospital last night after a short illness. (Photo by Hammond Bros., Lewiston, Me.)

'TOM' HEADLEY DIES SUDDENLY

Thomas W. Headley, dean of the Boston Evening American circulation department, died last evening at the Boston City Hospital.

Mr. Headley was one of the best known newspaper men in New England.

He represented the two newspapers in the State of Maine, where he was well known throughout the whole state.

Mr. Headley had been ailing for three weeks, and was removed to the City Hospital, Saturday, where, unexpectedly and suddenly, he passed away last evening.

"Tom," as he was known by his many friends and co-workers, will be sent to Philadelphia, his home town, on Saturday morning and the burial will be conducted on Monday morning at 234 West Columbia ave., Philadelphia.

Milkmen Trying to Stabilize Market

Springfield, Feb. 19 (AP)—Efforts to stabilize New England milk production on a profitable basis and to eliminate needless competition is the object of a meeting held here today, called as a farm relief measure by Glenn C. Sney, editor of the New England Homestead.

Efforts will be made to fix responsibility for price cutting and to determine what influences are seeking to swing wholesale trade to Minnesota.

After speakers pictured present conditions there was discussion of remedial measures.

U. S. Child Marriages Make Europe Smile

Philadelphia, Feb. 19 (AP)—Europeans, it seems, smile at American indignation over child marriages in the Orient. Setting forth at a meeting here, Dame Rachel Crowley, British sociologist, proceeded:

"We know that seven states in your country permit marriage of girls at the age of 13 and one state at the age of 16."

Franklin Medal Awarded to Two

Philadelphia, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Franklin Medal, one of the most distinguished honors conferred in America on a physicist, will go this year to Sir James Hopwood Jeans of London and Dr. Willis E. Whitworth of Schenectady, N. Y.

Dr. Jeans is famous for his mathematical contributions to astronomy. Dr. Whitworth is director of the General Electric company's research laboratory.

Two Fires Drive Out Cambridge Family

Chicory Peas, his wife and their six small children, were twice driven from their home at 113 Auburn st., Cambridge today by two fires, each of which started in the cellar. The first blaze broke out shortly after 1 o'clock and the second occurred at 3 a. m. when the family believed they could retire in safety. The flames in each case were slight, but the heavy smoke drove the family to the street.

Westfield Man Dies in New York Hotel

New York, Feb. 19 (AP)—James C. Taylor, 57, of Westfield, Mass., in office of the Crane Paper Company, died suddenly today in a room at the Hotel Roosevelt.

He came here with Robert C. Pierce of Dalton, Mass., to attend a convention of papermakers. Two men went to a theater last night and returned about midnight. Later Pierce found Taylor's body on the floor.

Train Cadets to Fly, Says Lindbergh

New York, Feb. 19 (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh favors the teaching of aviation at West Point, he said.

"I believe field instruction in air tactics should be an essential part of the training at West Point, and that is for the greatest value this training would be carried on in connection with the regular curriculum given at the military academy."

Chile Exiles Three Lawyers

Santiago, Chile, Feb. 19 (AP)—Three lawyers today were sentenced to semi-exile in southern Chile on charges of distributing pamphlets attacking the President. They must live in a designated town.

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

Everyone knows that sunshine mellow—that's why the "TOASTING" process includes the use of the Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret heating process. Harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos are expelled by "TOASTING." These irritants are sold to others. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

The advice of your physician is: Keep out of doors, in the open air, breathe deeply; take plenty of exercise in the mellow sunshine, and have a periodic check-up on the health of your body.

His Honor Cried 'Oh What a Man! You're Divorced: Get a Fan!'

Los Angeles, Feb. 19 (AP)—Two pretty women swore a streak that only strong men dare to speak. They cursed until the air was blue, and in a judge's hearing, too. It all occurred here yesterday, when dainty Mrs. Elva Ray appeared to have her marriage ties dissolved.

Her sister, Pauline, went along to join her in the swearing song, and when the cursing chorus died, the air around the place was fried.

Of course, the girls were only there to tell how Russell Ray could swear, to burn the judge's eardrums with awful words they had to hear. His honor said, "Enough! I've heard plenty don't repeat another word. No gent could blurt like that man. Divorce is granted. Bring a fan!"

Try This Tonight

What do you do when a sluggish system shows the bowels need help? The best thing yet discovered for this is willa little candy Cascarets. Take one tonight if liver and bowels aren't functioning as they ought. See how quickly bad breath, tongue or a bilious, headachy condition is cleared up. No griping or discomfort from Cascarets. The quick, pleasant relief they always bring constipation sufferers is lasting. For Cascarets are made from cocoa which doctors say actually strengthens bowels muscles. So you can take Cascarets as often as needed. 20 million boxes used yearly prove their merit.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' discovery of Olive Tablets, the substitute for castor oil.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and cabinet of old-time remedies, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets, while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Olive Tablets do not contain castor oil, and a healthy, soothing vegetable laxative, safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help ease the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them into unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling in back, headache, indigestion, constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 25c, 50c, 1.00.

For Your Daughter

Daughter of Mrs. Verna H. Call, Boston 14, Box 70, San Antonio, Texas.

"My daughter Kathleen is fifteen years old. For the past three years she suffered with pains as many young girls do. One day we saw an advertisement about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the San Antonio Evening News. She has been taking it regularly and is now completely relieved and able to attend school every day. You may use this letter because another woman's letter first told us about your medicine."—Mrs. Verna H. Call.

'WEST POINT OF WEST' SOUGHT BY CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Feb. 19 (US)—California has put in its bid for selection as the home state of the new United States Military Academy—also proposed in a "relocation" bill introduced in the House Tuesday by Congressman James J. McSwain of South Carolina.

And the author of the bill, a member of the military affairs committee, has responded with a declaration that even if the academy is not moved from West Point the West Coast is entitled to a coordinate branch of the institution plus a coordinate branch of the naval academy.

OFFERS SITE TO NATION

Hardly had McSwain's relocation bill been presented to the House when Governor James Rolph, Jr., dispatched an offer of a site in California. Inquiring more fully into purposes of the bill, he telegraphed to McSwain:

"If your bill invites proposals California's Legislature and county and city officials will present such a site unqualified for serviceable purposes and climatic conditions."

GOVERNOR IS PLEASED

The navy has selected California as its base for naval maneuvers and a similar location for military college and maneuvers on our great Western front will be submitted if your bill encourages such an offer.

McSwain, in his reply, broached a proposal which left the governor admittedly enthusiastic—a proposal to establish equal ranking branches of both military and naval academies on the Pacific coast. McSwain declared:

"I suggest that you wire the senators and representatives of California to support my bill and get action at this session."

"I suggest you request California's senators and representatives to introduce such a bill."

Governor Rolph, declaring himself impressed, said today that he will give McSwain's suggestions full consideration.

$75,000 LOSS IN HOTEL FIRE

Northampton, Feb. 19 (AP)—A fire on the upper floors of the Hotel Dexter last night drove more than 100 guests to the street and the loss of the blaze, which started in the attic, was not determined.

Hotel employees, firemen and policemen rushed through the building, arousing occupants and assisting them to the street. The location of the fire enabled the guests to get to the street with little confusion and most of their personal effects were saved.

The greater part of the damage, fire officials said, was caused by water.

Automobile Skid Hurts Maiden Boy

A skidding automobile injured a 15-year-old Maiden boy as he stood on a sidewalk, and then crashed into an iron pole on Ferry St., Malden, late yesterday.

The boy, Raymond Litchfield, of Irving Court, was taken to the Maplewood Hospital for treatment and later released. The automobile, police say, was driven by Harry Standard of 3 Huxford place, Lynn. Standard escaped injuries but his automobile was badly damaged.

TUNNEL NAME CONTEST TO END TODAY

Today at 5 p. m. ends the Name of the New Tunnel contest of the Boston Evening American—and all name suggestions must be in at that time.

When the votes have all been tabulated, the complete total will be announced, but it will be a long list of names indeed, and one containing some peculiar designations.

The Curley Tunnel advocates have boosted their total to 213 to day, which is far in the lead of any other name that has been submitted. The Curley name has been decidedly popular in this contest, and the Curley list itself is a long one.

Here are the leading 20 designations so far as the votes have been tabulated by the Tunnel Editor of the Boston Evening American:

Curley Tunnel 213
James M. Curley, Jr., Tunnel 138
Boston designations 109
Gen. Edwards designations 65
Lincoln designations 55
East Boston designations 55
Uppert designations 55

Larbor designations 40
Inf designations 38
Bose designations 38
North-East designations 35
Broadway designations 35
Has designations 34
Arley Memorial Tunnel 34
Loddy designations 34
Paul Bevere designations 31
By designations 28
North Shore designations 28
Remember—the tunnel naming closes today and all votes must be in this office by 5 p. m.

WBZ MAY BOOST ITS POWER TO 25,000 WATTS

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP).—Recommendations that the high-powered radio station be increased by 15, bringing those using 50,000 watts power to 22 and those using 25,000 watt power to 13 were made in a report to the Radio Commission today by Chief Examiner Tost. There is one Boston station in the list.

Today's report recommended that eight stations in the five zones be permitted to increase their power to 50,000 and that 11 stations be permitted to increase their power to 25,000 watts.

The eight new 50,000 watt positions are: WBZ, New York; first zone; WCAU, Philadelphia; second zone; WBBM, Chicago; third zone; WGN, Chicago; WCCO, Minneapolis; fourth zone; KGO, San Francisco; and KGA, Denver, fifth zone.

He advocated the following stations increased to 25,000 watts: First zone: WBZ, Boston; WHAM, Rochester; WOR, Newark; second zone: WHAS, Louisville; third zone: WPT, Charlotte; N. W. W. A. T., Birmingham; KYVO, Tulsa; fourth zone: WMA, Chicago; fifth zone: KSL, Salt Lake and KGO, Oakland. The report has to be acted upon by the Radio Commission before it can become effective.

Bay State School Bequeathed $25,000

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 19 (AP).—Charitable organizations and institutions of learning in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York and Kentucky were included in the $25,000 bequest in the will of Mrs. Lucille Foster Irving, widow of William A. Irving, former president of the Hartford County Mutual Fire Insurance.

Among them were: Berea College, Berea, Ky., $25,000; Northfield School of Northfield, Mass., $25,000.

His Plea of Many Ills Fails to Stave Off $5 Fine for Drunk

A combination of heart trouble, high blood pressure, a broken back and excitement was offered as a defense on a drunkenness charge in municipal court today by James Downey of Leveeville.

West End, but Judge Bolster levied a fine in spite of it.

Downey promptly appealed and was released on his own recognizance.

He charged it was his wife who had been drinking and who went in a police car that brought Patrolman James F. Mulhern to the Downey home.

"Any evidence of Mrs. Downey drinking?" Judge Bolster asked the officer.

"She was just as sober as you are, Your Honor," was the reply.

YEGGS KIDNAP 2, LOOT BANK

Cedarvale, Kas., Feb. 19 (INS).—Loot amounting to $22,100 was obtained by two bandits who wrecked the Citizens National Bank by exploding the vault early today, cut all telephone and telegraph lines leading into the town and kidnaped two men.

The kidnaped men, Carl Osborn, bank watchman at the State Police, and A. C. Crossland, Missouri Pacific telegrapher, who later was released, were forced by the bandits to break the lock on the bank door and aid in blowing up the vault.

BLAINE BARES POSTAL PLOT

Washington, Feb. 19 (AT).—The flat charge of collusion to prevent a second grand jury investigation of the St. Paul commercial station postal lease was made today by Chairman Blaine of the Senate committee investigating the lease.

Cross-examining former Postmaster-General New, Blaine said a "chain of circumstances was growing, in strength to show there was collusion" to prevent the second investigation.

Blaine's charge followed a sharp clash with New, in which the latter asserted the committee chairman was "insulting."

Blaine questioned New on length about reports submitted by postal inspectors sent to investigate the lease after a grand jury had found evidence of fraud and recommended a full investigation. The committee chairman said the inspectors sent to St. Paul by New had criticized the first grand jury which found evidence of fraud in the lease. New insisted he had sent the inspectors to obtain the truth.

1930 Shows an Increase

A Special Message to Insurance Buyers

TODAY we have distributed the Nineteenth Annual Report of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, showing substantial increases in premiums written, in assets, in surplus, and in dividends paid to policyholders.

Such progress, made under the unfavorable business conditions of 1930, is not only gratifying to us, but is of great significance to every careful buyer of insurance.

Total premiums written in 1930 were $18,255,903, largest in Liberty Mutual history. The ratio of expense was the lowest since 1920. This result may be attributed in part to good management, but chiefly to increasing public willingness to insure in a mutual company of unquestionable financial strength, with a policy of fairness and promptness in settling claims.

For these reasons, Liberty Mutual is now the largest mutual casualty insurance company in America, offering a complete insurance service which includes Workmen's Compensation, Automobile [all forms], Public Liability, Burglary, Elevator, Plate Glass, and Fidelity Bonds. Fire Insurance is written through the United Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

Liberty Mutual has reduced, for more than 30,000 automobile owners in Massachusetts, the costs of compulsory automobile insurance.

Cash dividends of 20 per cent have been paid to Liberty Mutual policyholders every year. In addition to this distribution of profits, resulting from the economical plan of mutual operation, Liberty Mutual has accumulated a surplus of $3,895,359, and larger reserves than are required under the rigid Massachusetts insurance laws.

You are cordially invited to discuss your insurance problems with us, and let us suggest ways both of increasing protection and reducing costs. You will be welcome at our office, or we will send a well-informed representative to you.

DADDY OF THE YD

An Intimate Story of the Life of General Clarence R. Edwards

This is the fourth in a series of articles on the life of Gen. Clarence R. Edwards.

By HARRY A. BENWELL

Wearing a brand new, beautifully tailored uniform, and encumbered with numerous pieces of luggage, Second Lieut. Clarence R. Edwards set forth to join his regiment.

It may be that on arrival his first young enthusiasm was somewhat dampened, because Fort Union, New Mexico, long since abandoned by the War Department, was not an inspiring spectacle.

Low, rambling wooden structures, some of them built of logs, with corrals for the animals, the whole surrounded by a stout stockade and set out in the middle of a sun-baked flat.

The nearest community featured a few houses, a number of stores and fully half a dozen saloons. Aside from the railroads which were the sole means of over the country, transportation was dependent on horses or mules.

Frontier Life

Blazing Sun, but Beautiful Landscape at Post

Infantry drill in that parched country, under the hot sun of summer, was an ordeal, as the English boys learned many years later when they went to the Mexican border.

To offset the disadvantages, however, there was the bracing wine-like air, and the towering mountains in the distance tinted to rainbow colors at sunrise and sunset.

To the young officer from Cleveland it all must have seemed strange and somewhat depressing on arrival, but it is not on record that he ever complained.

On the contrary he applied himself assiduously to carrying out his duties and to acquiring an insight to a study of infantry.

However, when a year after his arrival the 23d was transferred to Fort Porter at Buffalo, N. Y., Lieut. Edwards prepared to move with joyous alacrity.

Buffalo was some 200 miles from Cleveland, but that fact was better than 2000. But further good fortune was in store for the young officer. His regiment arrived at Fort Porter shortly after the assassination of President Garfield, whose body was placed in a vault at the post. When it was decided to maintain a military guard at the vault, Lieut. Edwards was assigned the command, and within a short time was once again in the bosom of his family.

His Only Romance

Weds Girl Whose Ancestors Named His Fort

His duties in his first independent command were not onerous, and he had considerable time to devote to his family and friends. Needless to say there was joy in the Edwards household. Time in the Edwards household, time as well as physically. Tall, boned, and already with the habit of command, he was a splendid type of young officer, and caused many a feminine heart to flutter.

Nevertheless it was not until he completed his detail and had returned to Fort Porter that the one and only romance of his life developed.

At the fort he met Miss Beale Porter, a charming debutante and the great-granddaughter of Gen. Peter Porter for whom the post was named.

Lieut. Edwards fell violently in love, and after the vicissitudes through which such affairs usually pass, learned that his feeling was reciprocated.

In the presence of many of Lieut. Edwards' military fellow officers the young couple were married at a military wedding in St. Peter's Church at Niagara Falls, June 11, 1888. When Mrs. Edwards died 40 years later, the general suffered the greatest blow of his life, and he did not long survive her.

Life at Fordham

Degrees Conferred Long After for His Work There

The happy bridegroom had obtained a long leave of absence, and immediately after the ceremony departed on a honeymoon in Europe.

On his return to his regiment Lieut. Edwards was assigned as military instructor to Fordham College for three years, for which service later he received the honorary degrees of AM and LL.D.

The Rev. Michael J. Sherr, S. J., of Boston College, in a radio tribute paid Gen. Edwards the day after his death, recalled the days when he was a student of military science at Fordham College, now Fordham University, and the young lieutenant came to feature. Even in those days, he said, Lieut. Edwards left a lasting impression of force of character and personality.

At the expiration of his term as instructor at Fordham, Lieut. Edwards was transferred again to the Southwest, going to Fort Clark, Big Bend Park, Texas. There he obtained invaluable experience in organization and administration. He commanded one company at all times and fre-

HOOVER TO REST DOWN SOUTH

Washington, Feb. 19.—Barring a development which would force an extra session of Congress the end of the first week in March will find President Hoover on his way South for a brief period of game fishing in Florida waters and a much-needed rest.

The President is sorely in need of a rest, his aides and his physician advised him, and to that end the trip is being planned.

In the hectic first two years of his administration—encompassing drought and constant battles with a hostile Congress—Mr. Hoover has had but a single week's vacation away from his home and office. He has insisted he must seek temporary relaxation.

It is understood he will take over the household "haunter," owned by his friend, Jeremiah Milbank, of New York, Eastern treasurer of the Republican National Committee. It will anchor off Long Key on the Atlantic side.

V. F. W. TO OPEN ANNUAL DRIVE

Senior Vice-Commander George W. Cronin will outline plans for the annual membership drive of the Veterans of Foreign Wars during a radio broadcast tonight at 7:30 over station WLOE. He will also explain the veterans' adjusted compensation bill.

The radio campaign will continue for six weeks and leaders of the V. F. W. will be heard every Thursday evening over station WLOE.

State Commander Dr. Julian D. Lucas, Henry V. O'Day, adjutant; Peter W. Fats, judge advocate; and William A. Dinmore, past quartermaster, will be heard in future broadcasts.

L. R. Iffler, Steel Man, Dies

Columbia, Pa., Feb. 19 (AP)—L. R. Iffler, wealthy steel manufacturer, nationally known for his collection of show dogs, died in a hospital today of pneumonia. He was 44.

How to Deal With a Cold

If you've caught a severe cold, stay indoors and call your doctor. A cold may develop seriously. In the meantime, take a couple of Darol tablets with a full glass of water and rub your chest and back with Albatur.

The Darol will change your system from an acid to an alkaline condition in which germs do not thrive and will stay any fever. The Albatur will relieve congestion in the chest both by local treatment and by the vapors which it releases and which you breathe. Albatur is not only more effective than the ordinary "rub" but it does not stain the clothing. Darol and Albatur together form a complete and thorough treatment of a cold, and prevent its becoming dangerous. All Hildebrand's Drugs and other independent drug stores sell Darol and Albatur. Such are Hildebrand's products which in itself is enough to assure their merit.

FATHER OF 'HAT RACKET' BROKE

New York, Feb. 19 (AP)—The man whose ingenuously blundered many a hat-check girl on the road to fortune is broke himself.

He is John Laffery, Broadway stage manager for 35 years and member of the Lambs Club. He filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in Federal court declaring that liabilities amount to $12,545, $75 of which is owed to David Zaslansky.

It was a rainy day in '29 when the hat-checking idea was born in Tony Pastor's Young John, then the program boy, found there were good tips in muddling fellow umbrella during the show. The next day he had a keymaker fashion the now familiar brass check. It was the first "racket" he had. But Tony Pastor took it over shortly after.

CUT IN PRICE OF WHEAT BREAD

New York, Feb. 19.—Six million loaves, according to estimates, will be saved to the consumers of the country in whole wheat bread purchases during the next year as the result of an approximately 20 per cent reduction in the price of the standard loaf, announced today by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

The statement says the company acted on the suggestion of the United States Senate committee on food prices to meet the need of lower priced foods.

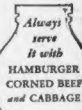

The whole wheat loaf in the standard division stores was reduced from 10 cents to 8 cents. Comparable reductions were made in the 14,000 stores served by the 27 bakeries of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. The estimated savings to the consumers will result not only from money saved by A. & P. purchasers but also by the price lowering effect on other distributors.

MARY PICKFORD TELLS OF DAYS OF $45 A WEEK

Los Angeles, Feb. 19 (U.S.)—Radio listeners throughout the country learned last night why Mary Pickford used to wash that her eyes were blue instead of hazel.

Louella Parsons, motion picture editor of Hearst newspapers and Universal Service asked her point-blank during the Puckett broadcast, and Mrs. Pickford said:

"Because my eyes photographed so dark that I always had to play Indian parts, and it's no fun to get up before daylight to put on a chilly brown clay mask."

Mrs. Pickford and Mrs. Parsons chatting in a radio interview, labeled about the old Biograph days, when the star was a young girl in her early teens, playing in a company that included Blanche Sweet, the Gishes, Mae Marsh and others.

TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

This was Mrs. Pickford's second appearance before the microphone and, like the first, in the interest of the youth sufferer. She had just officially dispatched five carloads of oranges to Oklahoma and Arkansas as she told her listeners.

"It was 'You remember'—the old friends—remembered the 'funny old clothes' and the 'first big hit' that Mrs. Pickford used to wear before the camera long before she became a star."

"You were the adorable youngster," said Miss Parsons. "Yes, even in those days! And I remember your mother was always with you."

"I never could have achieved success without my mother," said Mrs. Pickford sincerely.

And the first time I heard about you, I was on Miss Parsons' show, 'The producer of the old Broncho Billy comedies told me that you wanted $50 a week, and that no movie actress in the world was worth more than $45. You were only about 15 years old then, with your long golden curls and your big eyes."

"Maybe I wasn't worth the $55—but I wanted it," said the star. "Good old days," said Mrs. Parsons.

"Not so good," came the reply. "There were lovely people—Miss Sweet, the Gishes—'The first big hit'—but I can't forget that Indian make-up."

"Then they switched to more recent events. 'Where did you get that French kiss in Paris?' demanded Miss Parsons. 'Maia, je parle tres bien.' .. began the star in a torrent of French. 'I copied my good friend, Maurice Chevalier,' she added.

Douglas Fairbanks was probably not listening in, she regretfully said.

"He's on his way to Slams," said Mrs. Pickford, and the wave didn't work so well in that direction. She was going to shoot him and then, and then I'll meet him in Germany."

Gandhi and Viceroy Will Confer Again

New Delhi, India, Feb. 19 (AP)—A communique from the viceroy's palace today said Viceroy Lord Irwin had granted Mahatma Gandhi a further interview.

It was considered possible several days might elapse before a further stage in the negotiations, by which the Nationalist campaign of civil disobedience may be called off, can be reached.

POLICE FIRE ON MARLBORO PAIR

Marlboro, Feb. 18—Marlboro police captured one of two youths after a mile chase on the Boston Post road early today. The other youth escaped into nearby woods after police had fired several shots.

The pair had been driving a car reported as stolen in Worcester. The machine crashed into a parked car in front of the Windsor Inn here and crashed off into another auto operated by Harold St. Francis of Nahant, N. H.

Following the crash the youths leaped from the stolen car and fled with two bundles. A police car gave chase.

One youth was caught and taken to headquarters where he gave his name as Edward Risher, 26, of Huxley St., Worcester. He was held for Worcester police. The bundles dropped by the pair contained clothing, later identified as stolen from a dry house in Worcester.

Muscle Shoals Veto Report 'Misleading'

Washington, Feb. 19 (AP)—The conference report on Muscle Shoals has been completed and probably will be submitted to the House with a recommendation for action tomorrow.

It was said at the White House today that the nature of the compromise was as yet unknown to President Hoover and reports that the President would veto the bill if it reached him were misleading.

THE MYSTERY OF GERALDINE

By ANTHONY ABBOT

Colt Names Slayer of Geraldine Foster

CHAPTER 29
Mrs. Maskell Accused
"THIS FIRST ENVELOPE," said Colt, holding it up, contains a half I took from the balcony of Geraldine Foster the night I first visited her apartment. I kept it because I thought I might need it if her body were found and identification proved difficult. This other half I found on the floor, where it had fallen on the head of the murderer, probably during the struggle."

Opening the second envelope, Colt drew out a long, almost invaluable strand of hair. It was of a medium blonde.

"I may tell you," added the Commissioner, "that the murderer has since had her hair dyed. If you look among all the possible suspects, you will not find the counterpart of this hair. But now I will show you a third exhibit."

The silence was almost deafening in its effect as Thatcher Colt drew out a third envelope. Then from a lower, deeper drawer, he took out a box, thin glass case on a low pedestal, a hydrostatic tube such as is used by chemists. It was filled with a colorless liquid.

Another Clue

"Recently," explained Colt, "I managed by stealth to discover several hairs from the head of the woman I suspect of killing Geraldine Foster. I took a leaf from her own book—I went to her own beauty parlor and bribed a girl there—just as she had gone to Doctor Maskell's barber, and obtained a cutting for an equally deadly purpose. Here is one of her hairs—a dark, heavily colored hair. But observe when I drop it into this chemical that the dye falls away."

We watched that demonstration in utter silence. The tiny strand of hair fell almost unseen into the chemical and then the water became discolored. After a moment Thatcher Colt drew out the hair and dropped it into a glass and beside it he held the one found on the scene of the crime.

They were a perfect match.

"Good Lord!" cried Dougherty again. "Who is this woman, Colt?"

The Police Commissioner shrugged his shoulders.

"I have such an identification as this might not convince a jury," he commented, "but fortunately I found another. In the bathroom of the murder-house the girl dropped a hairbrush. It had several stains on it. They might have been blood stains, but they were not. They were the stains of a lipstick."

At some point to the department, I had these stains analyzed. They—of a delicate and lengthy task—found I recognized them as the dried droplets of lipstick taken from the lips of Geraldine Foster. They had been there then in a crust by the lipstick. I found it that the lipstick used by Geraldine Foster was a Corded pink shade, but the one used by the murderer was from Coty.

George Maskell nodded and I said triumphantly.

"You have found the City lipstick on the woman you suspect?" he asked in a strident voice.

"I have," said Thatcher Colt. "I observed her stick one once when she dropped it in this very room."

Natalie Maskell, rising, was pale now and smiling strangely.

"Do you accuse me of murder, Mr. Geraldine Foster?" she cried.

"I do," said Thatcher Colt. "And you did it with an axe because no one would connect a woman with such a weapon."

Takes Poison

George Maskell struggled pathetically to his feet, and took his brother man and tried to take his stand beside his wife. Dougherty, who stood up, staring at the two, involuntarily into the face of this calm woman, this beautiful creature, the girl of us, even in this hour of terrible disclosure. Doctor Maskell stared up at her in horror, but she had eyes only for Thatcher Colt.

"I have not here and listened, listening to what you were saying," she remarked. "But I have yet to hear the motive."

"Your father-in-law has set out to live. He will bequeath millions of dollars to each of his two sons. But if one son dies, the other gets all. You want all. You are mad—mad!" said Thatcher Colt in solemn and accusing tones.

She laughed balefully.

"You are very clever, Mr. Colt," she cried, "but you must admit it was a pretty plan."

"To have the state kill the man you wanted to get rid of. It is a clever, but not a new device."

"Indeed? But you have not won yet, Mr. Colt."

Relatives in Battle for 'Omega Oil' Millions

$10,000 IS LEFT TO M. S. P. C. A. BY WINBURN

More Than Half-Million Total in Bequests for Various Animal Societies

Because of bequests of more than $500,000 to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and similar organizations, a battle has been started in New York to break the $7,500,000 will of Michael Winburn, manufacturer of Omega Oil.

The suit was started by Ruth Anselmi, a niece of the testator, who with other relatives was cut off in the will, while the bulk of the bequests were heavily endowed.

The widow, Mrs. Marie Winburn, was given a specific bequest of $100,000, but the will provided she receive half of the residue, which will give her nearly $400,000.

A sister, Mrs. Carrie Shelley of Boston, was bequeathed a life interest in one-fourth of the residue and $25,000.

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was given $100,000; the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, $25,000; the People's Dispensary for Sick Animals in London, $250,000; $75,000 for the Animal League for Animals to be built in Paris and $250,000 for its maintenance; the New York Women's League for Animals, the Blue-A-Wes, Inc., and the New York Anti-Vivisection Society, each $25,000.

20 PRISONERS FACE TRANSFER

Warden James L. Hoggart of the Charlestown State prison expects that the population at the prison which numbered 222 will be reduced 20 by the transfer of that number of prisoners to the Norfolk or Rutland prison camp.

He expects the 20 to be transferred the latter part of the week.

Parole hearings at the prison have become a numerous daily the past few years that the main office is being remodelled by Warden Hoggart, and when finished there will be a complete set of offices located on the second floor made out of rooms formerly used by the warden or deputy as part of their living quarters.

The entrance will be from the main office and reached by a flight of stairs and used more by the warden who are constantly at the prison checking back.

WORKING GIRL GETS MORE OUT OF LIFE THAN 'DEB'

Real Happiness Comes From Personal Sacrifice, Says Mrs. Fry, Social Registerite

By MRS. DOROTHY W. FRY
Chasing rainbows is as much the working girl's prerogative as her debutante sister's.

She isn't fated and flattered, to be sure, but she has the worthwhile things of life at hand, reality and the thrill of real accomplishment. She may not have the frivolity of a debutante, but she has work, the foundation of all happiness.

Debutantes are told that debauchery is the all-important thing. The household revolves about their whimsies and their slightest whim, whatever it is, is granted.

LIFE OF 'MIST'

The debutante must be made to look beautiful. She must have smart clothes. She must eclipse all others in charm, poise and attractiveness. It is a continual round of "mist" for her the year she is brought out to make her big bow to society.

The coming out year is described as an epochal period of her life. She is tried and flattered but does not achieve happiness? I wonder. Does the eternal round of parties with the blinding glare of incandescent electricity and the insistent crash of the jazz band really give her anything lasting; anything of great value?

Does she really meet people of worth or does she just come in contact with the vapid, pleasure-seeker who year after year finds greater interest or worth in life than doing the rounds of "deb parties?"

HAPPINESS IN NATURE

Surely a young girl should have a great time. Life should seem always full of beauty and real joy, not only while she is young, but as she grows older. But those things that will remain with her, always, are not the rounds of parties, but the beautiful things of life.

Real happiness comes from personal sacrifice. The girl who comes to the Donorville fire department when they call upon her, the girl who gives up her own life for the sake of others, she will find that the things of life are not only real, but they are lasting.

Somerville Fireman Falls From Truck

David L. Mahood, Jr., recently appointed to the Somerville fire department, was injured yesterday by being thrown from a fire truck which was responding to a fire alarm. He was taken to the hospital in one of the city's auto ambulances while it was being filled with trucks at the city stable.

PITY THE POOR DEBS, they are seeking happiness, but have been sidetracked by circumstances, whereas the working girl has the worthwhile things of life in her grasp. Such is the view of Mrs. Dorothy Whipple Fry of Brookline, social registerite and sculptress, who compares the working girl with her society sister in today's Boston Evening American.

CHelsea BLAST Victim DYING

John Tudanowicz, 32, of Arlington St., Chelsea, started to spend the afternoon in the kitchen stove of his home this morning with the aid of gasoline. He is dying in Chelsea Memorial Hospital.

When the gasoline struck burning wood an explosion occurred and Tudanowicz's clothing and the house caught fire.

When firemen arrived they found the victim unconscious in the hallway, to which he had fled after the blast.

Fire damage to the house was estimated at $200.

Truckload of Bricks Vanishes; Cambridge Driver Fined $5

Brickbottom's brick mystery was settled briskly in Cambridge court today. Joseph Gurney of Cranston rd., Cambridge, was fined $5 for alleged theft of a load of bricks from a Brick-bottom firm.

According to the complaint of Frank Grossman, head of the City Building Wrecking Co., the bricks disappeared and Gurney was the driver of the truck they were on.

Gurney pleaded not guilty but the court dictum agreed and levied the fine and cost.

GIRL RESCUES SISTER AT FIRE

One child was carried to safety by a sister and a family of nine driven to the street when fire broke out in a three-story apartment building at 113 Auburn st., Cambridge, early today.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Paros, living on the top floor with their seven children, were aroused by neighbors who discovered flames burning in the cellar.

Sophie Paros, nine, carried Jeanie, 15, to the street, while her parents attempted to escape. Mrs. Paros, 44, and her husband, 46, were rescued by the fire department.

A number of late model used cars are on sale in Cambridge for the balance due on original sale.

News in Want Ads

Apartment hunters will find extra to meet all requirements in the Back Bay or Fenway. A Massachusetts ave. apt. has suites of from one to seven rooms, furnished or unfurnished, in Delaware town is seeking a purchaser for her Hudson st. apartment. The apartment is large, in excellent condition, and may be purchased cheaply.

BATTLE TO BEAT THE HANGMAN

A Reporter's Story of the Famous Small Murder Case

MURDER WILL OUT!

Ma and Pa Raskob tested their new daughter-in-law's cooking today in the Cambridge apartment of their heir to millions.

Today, as a matter of fact, was the third day of the apartment for the new daughter-in-law, Ma and Pa Raskob, Mr. and Mrs. Raskob, to the world, but Ma and Pa to the young couple.

It all started much before last, when John J. Raskob, Jr., brother of the former New Haven stenographer, Minerva Antonucci, was married to the daughter of Ma and Pa Raskob, overlooking Harvard yard, in the role of many another young couple.

Bulging paper bags, some in both arms and some under the arm, Ma and Pa Raskob tested their new daughter-in-law's cooking today in the Cambridge apartment of their heir to millions.

Today, as a matter of fact, was the third day of the apartment for the new daughter-in-law, Ma and Pa Raskob, Mr. and Mrs. Raskob, to the world, but Ma and Pa to the young couple.

It all started much before last, when John J. Raskob, Jr., brother of the former New Haven stenographer, Minerva Antonucci, was married to the daughter of Ma and Pa Raskob, overlooking Harvard yard, in the role of many another young couple.

Trunks and bags arrived, denoting a long stay, and the four remained close to the apartment and the young couple.

The morning the four left in a car, but the young couple remained in the luggage inside. The elder Raskobs were uncommunicative and when junior was asked the whereabouts of his father, he looked at the father of his head and replied to his questioner "My father is in Florida."

LACK OF SLEEP KILLS VET

Beverly World War veterans today prepared to pay final tribute to Joseph Campbell, one of ten outstanding heroes of the Yankee Division, who died in Great Britain Hospital of a malady diagnosed as "sleeplessness."

Holder of the Distinguished Service Cross and the Cross de Guerre, Campbell, who was formerly cited in general orders for bravery in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, died in 1928, was buried recently to give up his job with the American Red Cross in Lyons, France.

Following is the first installment of another case in a gripping series of articles on famous New England murder cases appearing daily in the Boston Evening American.

It was a bit disappointing for George Kennett, then assistant manager of the Central House at Ossipee, N. H., when Frederic L. Small failed to invite the hotel man into Small's cottage on the afternoon of Sept. 23, 1916, but beyond his disappointment Kennett thought little of it.

The dereliction, however, in combination with the traditional "hard luck" of Small, was to cost him considerable in days to come—considerable in anguish and remorse—and eventually his life.

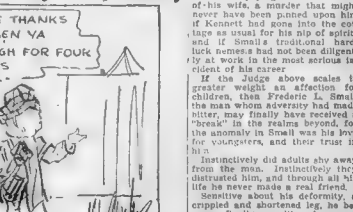

Had Small invited Kennett into the cottage for the usual nip of whiskey it is possible that the usually hospitable man might still be alive today and his name clear of the signs "murderer."

PAYS WITH LIFE

Just one year three months and 18 days following the incident Small dropped through the state prison in a bandied bed of official hanging that was the more gruesome because of the diabolical beat of a cold and numbness in his hands before dawn of a January day.

He was paying for the murder of his wife, a murder that might never have been panned upon him if Kennett had gone into the cottage as usual for his nip of spirits and if Small's traditional hard luck names had not been diligently at work in the most serious laciness of his career.

VALENTINO'S SPIRIT DENIES HE DIED A NATURAL DEATH

FILM LOVER HAS PRAISE FOR CHAPLIN, GARBO, SWANSON

In yesterday's installment of this "interview" with the spirit of Rudolph Valentino, the author described answers to the first of a series of questions asked the screen lover in a seance with George Wehner, medium. Valentino, in answer to one of the queries, said he would have liked to have made talking if he lived, as he had been told that he had a good voice. The narrative continues:

By R. T. M. SCOTT
Chairman New York Section, American Society for Psychical Research.

QUESTION—Do people ever return to this world as ghosts, perhaps?

VALENTINO—It would all depend on what people call ghosts. I would say yes. The earth-bound spirits return as ghosts. People see apparitions of them. Very often, haunted houses, they are drawing the ectoplasmic force to their astral bodies—drawing the atoms of ectoplasmic force from some human being.

QUESTION: Can you communicate with anyone as you would like, or must you be sent by a higher power?

VALENTINO: I cannot communicate with anyone I like because there are many obstacles. I have gone to some of my old friends, stood beside them, touched them, but to no avail. They were not sensitive enough to feel me. Others I have reached almost immediately.

Sometimes those I am used to coming to are shut to me through some depression which makes it impossible for me to get down to the level to which their spirits have dropped. I am not sent by any higher power. I go because I want to talk to someone or because I love them.

QUESTION: Are you thoroughly settled in your present sphere, or will you move on to other places?

VALENTINO: I am not settled at all. I don't know how long I shall be in this sphere, where I am constantly learning things that are spiritual. I know I shall progress to higher planes. I know also that there are things I can only learn in the earth-world before I can progress to higher planes. I think I shall come back to the earth world before I can ever go to higher planes.

QUESTION BY SURPRISED EDITOR: You mean to be born over again?

VALENTINO: Yes. The earth is the schoolroom of the

"LON CHANEY"

"MILTON SILLS"

WHEN GEORGE WEHNER, noted medium, asked Rudolph Valentino what film folks he was meeting in spirit land, the great movie star mentioned Barbara La Marr, Milton Sills, June Mathias and Olive Thomas. Rudy added: "I have seen June Mathias. I see her quite a good deal." Wehner in the same question asked "Rudy" if he had seen Lon Chaney. No reply was forthcoming. "Constantly learning things that are spiritual," is Valentino's claim. He thinks he'll return to this world before attaining higher things. It was in this reply that he said: "The earth is the schoolroom of the soul, the lowest class, the kindergarten."

are your friends now in spirit land?

VALENTINO: I see many of them. There is Barbara La Marr. I have seen Olive Thomas. I see her quite a good deal. I have seen Milton (Milton Sills). He has tried to get in touch with Doris (Doris Kenyon). I have seen June Mathias, and her mother, Jennie. I see a great deal of June.

The voice from the medium was becoming a little weak and I hurried to ask the next question, the greatest film star today?

VALENTINO: That is a difficult question because people are great in different fields. I do not think anyone has reached Charlie Chaplin's place in comedy. Gloria Swanson is a great artist in her line of work. Also there is that Swedish artist, Greta Garbo. Her husky, throaty tones are wonderful for expressing emotion.

QUESTION: Have you ever returned to haunt your house in Hollywood?

VALENTINO: Yes. I have returned, but not for the purpose of haunting it. I have returned to walk around the place and live again the old days in memory. It is the same as when you sit in a chair and think over past days. When we think of a place we are there immediately. In living the old days over again, I have gone to that house and wandered through the rooms, thinking of the old happiness and sorrows. Sometimes people have heard me walk around and have felt my presence.

QUESTION: Had you any premonition that you were going to die?

VALENTINO: Yes I was in an awful mental state. I felt a breaking up of things. I had the feeling that nothing material mattered very much and so I let go of myself. The premonition took that form.

QUESTION: Do you see Lon Chaney? What film folk had placed at the end of the list. What, if any, would be the answer?

QUESTION: How did you die? Was there any justification in the rumors of shooting or poisoning?

For the moment, there was no reply as the medium

swayed forward in his chair

"The earth is the schoolroom of the soul, the lowest class, the kindergarten."

closed eyes. I was about to repeat the question when the answer came—very sorrowfully and a little reluctantly.

VALENTINO: It is very difficult for me to answer because it involves a great many people. I will say that—I did not die as a natural death. I am not going to divulge any names.

I have no desire for revenge, contrary to the opinion most people might have. I do not wish to have any suffering come to them more than will come to them through natural causes. We cannot do wrong without suffering the consequences (there was a pause). I think I would relieve them if I could.

I had no more questions to ask and, while I pondered the last and shocking answer of the alleged Valentino, the medium relapsed into a state of repose and slowly regained consciousness. The pretty stenographer brought another glass of water which George Wehner accepted with a shaking hand. The seance was ended.

THE TWELVE QUESTIONS

At the seance described in the accompanying article by R. T. M. Scott these twelve questions to Rudolph Valentino were submitted through George Wehner, the medium:

Does a person on this earth need to be psychic in order to communicate with a person who has died, and does such a communication have to pass through a medium?

If you had lived, would you have gone into the talkies?

What is the relation of husband and wife in the spirit world? Are they together or aren't things important?

Is one immediately cured after death of the disease from which he died?

Do people ever return to this world as ghosts, perhaps? Can you communicate with anyone as you would like, or must you be sent by a higher power?

Are you thoroughly settled in your present sphere or will you move on to other places?

Who is, in your opinion, the greatest film star today? Have you ever returned to haunt your house in Hollywood? Had you any premonition that you were going to die?

Do you see Lon Chaney? What film folk are your friends now in spirit land? WAS THERE ANY JUSTIFICATION IN THE RUMORS OF SHOOTING OR POISONING?

How to Escape FLU

Avoid so far as possible the places where flu germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; stuffy, poorly ventilated rooms.

Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air but avoid drafts or chilling.

Get lots of rest. Eat plenty of citrus fruits. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have high resistance against germs.

Above all, avoid catching colds. They lower your resistance to the flu germ. Ward them off. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin and remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. Gargle with Bayer Aspirin dissolved in water at the first touch of sore throat, as this will relieve the soreness and reduce the inflammation.

If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

"I have returned (to my house in Hollywood) but not for the purpose of haunting it."

away from it until you have learned all the lessons in it.

QUESTION: Who is, in your opinion, the greatest film star today?

VALENTINO: That is a difficult question because people are great in different fields. I do not think anyone has reached Charlie Chaplin's place in comedy. Gloria Swanson is a great artist in her line of work. Also there is that Swedish artist, Greta Garbo. Her husky, throaty tones are wonderful for expressing emotion.

QUESTION: Have you ever returned to haunt your house in Hollywood?

VALENTINO: Yes. I have returned, but not for the purpose of haunting it. I have returned to walk around the place and live again the old days in memory. It is the same as when you sit in a chair and think over past days. When we think of a place we are there immediately. In living the old days over again, I have gone to that house and wandered through the rooms, thinking of the old happiness and sorrows. Sometimes people have heard me walk around and have felt my presence.

QUESTION: Had you any premonition that you were going to die?

VALENTINO: Yes I was in an awful mental state. I felt a breaking up of things. I had the feeling that nothing material mattered very much and so I let go of myself. The premonition took that form.

BRUNNS AND CANADIENS CLASH AT ARENA

FIGHTING

With GEORGE UNDERWOOD
So Long, Rookies; Watch Out for Gators and Gals.
Pensacola Not So Hot, but St. Pete Is a Grand Burg.
TOOT! TOOT! ALL ABOARD FOR DIXIE

SO LONG, FELLERS. So long, you rookies, who joined the Red Sox and will be the world's so long, Justin Whiting, Ed O'Neil, Jim Galvin, Sumner Collingsworth, Andy Mullany, Bill Marshall, Paddy Cresson, Charlie Cronin, Frank Milliken, who are on your way to Pensacola and your first Southern baseball training camp. So long. Take care yourselves.

Look out for the Gators, Bill. And you, Andy, and Paddy, watch out for them Southern gals. Um-m-m-m-m. Peaches! Eyes like lumpy pools, hair of the raven, figures that would make Venus and Aileen, The Beautiful, Miss Model, look like Miss Smith, that school teacher who was so angular you could hang things on the corners.

Yes, fellows, those Southern gals are more dangerous than the "taters." One look at 'em and you sort of quiver all over. The climate has something to do with it. A guy of mine, PADDY CRESSON, Southern scrapper, walking down Tremont street wouldn't make you young boys skip a beat. But they all seem to rest the eyes down in the lower Dixie zone.

WE REPORTED, Justin Whiting and Sumner, that badger fight was the first thing out of "taters." MacFadden, who has explored the wild regions "way down South in the land of cotton and good boys" will tell you about it. You look at a chicken-chuck at North Station and you start asking him questions about the strange land. Keep away from those badger fights, fellows. Keep away from 'em. You will not see any badger fight, but you will get a long walk.

We know what we are talking about, fellows. We were "taken" to a badger fight one night down in Augusta, Ga., on our first trip South. They filled us up with tales of badger fights and how a battle between a badger and a bulldog had everything backed off the boards. Roads we miles out of the country. Let us in an opening in a canebrake and told us to wait until they drove the dogs and the badger down our way.

We waited for about two hours before we woke up. Boys, that was a long walk home. Started to rain. Got dark as the pit. We saw nine going and four hammers behind every cottonwood, stepped on a log and thought it was a "tater." Some of the hickory nuts rattling in our pockets made us think we were pursued by a whole flock of rat-taters.

A VERY SCARED, bedraggled, lit young one of a sports writer came hoofing into Augusta in the cold gray dawn of the morning after. That day they told us to "laugh off that badger fight." But that better now than I was. Gunguisa Din, had been taken to badger fight. And we were treated to one of the best. So we laughed it off.

But you couldn't blame us that season for sometimes confusing hits with errors and errors with hits when we were scoring for those guys, BILLY MARSHALL, could you? We laughed all right—laughed last!

FITCHER PAT BAUGHAN accused us of harboring that badger fight grudge for years. Once, after Pat had been in about 20 games he blazed a clean one into right-center. He started for first, stopped, turned his head to the press stand and blurted:

"There! I told you, as if you can stop me from me!"

While Pat was creating the fielder made a great error and with a rifle ball threw nailed Hogan at first. Poor Pat was so flabbergasted he swallowed his nut.

DON'T START dreaming too much of the Sunny South, fellows, or you may be disappointed. Sometimes it isn't sunny. Our Mississippi will forget her warm, sunny days and start raining. We landed at Augusta in the middle of a snow storm. Looking out of the hotel window at the driving snow the "tater" birds! Magnolia trees! Sunny South! O what a treat!

PENSACOLA will not seem much like the Sunny South you expect to see. It's cold there. No bathing like Miami, St. Pete, Tampa and points further South. No beaches on the golden sands this time of the year at Pensacola. The beach, 15 miles away on the Gulf is cold and deserted. And windy—say, she sure does blow in Pensacola. It blows the dunes sand in your eyes and in the hair of the hair.

FRANK MILLIKEN, St. Pete has everything Pensacola has for training quarters is beyond us.

But cheer up, Ed, Bill, Justin, Jack, Frank, Andy and the rest of you rookies. Pensacola isn't so bad. The San Carlos Hotel is a pip. There are two golf clubs, three movies, a whole flock of dance halls and those also excel those hickory nut shenanigans.

NEXT DOOR to the hotel is the Elks Club and the Elks fall all over themselves to make you feel right at home. So do the brother Knights of Columbus. Russ Scarlett, the puffball, is a member of the Pensacola Council and the Pensacola Knights keep open house for you. If you want a third cut to the Elks, Elks Club, Elks, Elks, let one of the flock of pilots take you up and loop the loop. We went up one. Would they give anything if he only would have stepped on a ship and let us go out and walk.

THE WISE OWEN leaving South Station today are Bill Cronin and Bob Brown. Newton Bill and Bill Bob have picked out the Braves to track South with. The Braves, you know, train in St. Petersburg. Ah, good old St. Pete! St. Pete has everything Pensacola has.

The big metropolis which grew out of a small fishing village there on Tampa Bay is flooded with golden sunshine. It's rarely cold in St. Pete. Sun-bathing and swimming at silver Pete. Sun-bathing and swimming at silver Pete. Treasure Island, Madeira, an indoor pool at the Spa—plenty of golf clubs, boating, fishing, movies, recreation, entertainments everywhere, and out and walk.

Kenzie Kilgory vs. Andy Brown.

By JACK CONWAY
Ed George is a favorite to successfully defend his title as world's heavyweight wrestling champion in his final bout, best two falls out of three, with Nick Litze at the New Boston Arena tonight under the direction of Paul Bowser.

The challenger was up bright and early this morning. After breakfast he took a brisk walk through the Public Gardens and across the Common.

"I feel in wonderful condition for my clash with Litze," said the youthful George, who has a had time to go into training since Monday and am well rested.

Jack Conway said: "I shall win confidence is half the battle in any game, and I have to do it. I had without having faith in myself."

George was also round earth. He has been in Boston since he upset Lee.

"There will be a new world's champion after my meeting with George tonight," asserted Litze. "I have won from McCall, Sherry and Wyckoff, and feel the title holder would be able to stop my winning drive."

The appearance of the champion against an opponent who has chance of defeating him has aroused considerable interest. It is expected that a large crowd will be on hand when George and Litze meet.

The referee will not be known until the last time. Personally I would like to see Leon Burbank, one of the most capable officials in the East, on the job. In the event Burbank is not picked, either Sam Smith or Charley Bennett would be acceptable. Each is a first class official.

I am going to strike along with George tonight. I will always like the champion, as a rule, whether it is a wrestling match or a boxing contest.

Stecher and McCoy in Semifinal
Joe Stecher, former world's heavyweight champion, will scale Biller McCoy, of Cambridge, in the semifinal. Stecher recently won from George Vassal in a terrific match at the Arena, while McCoy has been winning regularly.

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED TO SEE LEADERS IN FINAL BATTLE OF SEASON

By BILL GRIMES
Before the largest crowd that ever trooked to the Boston Garden for a hockey match, the Bruins and Les Canadiens, pacemakers of their respective divisions, will play their fourth and final game of the regular season tonight.

Lineup at Garden

For two weeks the fans have been storming the Bruins' offices for tickets and every seat, regardless of location and every inch of available standing room, will be occupied when the great Howie Morena and Cooney Wendell face off.

As a hockey attraction, Les Canadiens have no equal. In fact for two decades, they have been the greatest draw in the game. They are the most colorful club in hockey, and regardless of their standing in the race, when they are seldom out of the running, their appeal is to every eye on the N. H. L. circuit, brings out the "All Bold Out" signs.

Canadiens Hold Four-Game Lead

Les Canadiens are enjoying one of their best seasons. They are four games out in front of their nearest Canadian Division rival—the Montreal Maroons in five starts, thereby winning the Kennedy Cup, emblematic of the N. H. L. circuit, brings out the "All Bold Out" signs.

STOCKS HIGHER MORE WET

New York, Feb. 19.—Improvement in the steel, copper and other industries and the better outlook for business as reported by a number of reliable agencies accounted for the better feeling in Wall St. today and the new advance in prices of favorite stocks.

For the second day in succession the market had no procyonotes on display. Stock sales up to the noon hour totaled only a million shares, against 1,500,000 in the same period yesterday, and nearly 2,000,000 in some of the recent busy sessions.

SPECIALISTS LESS ACTIVE.

The best "democratic" group in the market specialists were made at the opening of the market, when an overnight accumulation of buying in the steel, copper and other industries forced prices to 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 points higher. Thereafter, however, the case and other specialties settled down to the dull routine and price changes were narrow.

The copper market reported a better demand for the red metal at 20 cents a pound than had been in evidence when the 20-cent advance at 9 1/2 cents. Anasconda, American Smeltering and Kennecott led the advance in copper stocks, moving up more than a point.

Republic was the favorite in the independent steel, the stock advancing nearly 3 points to 2 1/2, as reports that operations had been speeded up to 80 per cent of capacity.

At current prices Republic is up 10 1/2 per cent from the low of 1929. In a rise in which merger rumors have played but little part, the stock has advanced 10 1/2 points since 1929.

REPUBLIC IS BUSY

Schedules furnished by mill manufacturers show that production is up 50 per cent of the rated capacity. This is exceptional, but the rate is not as high as the rate in the country, which is now at around 80 per cent of capacity.

Blat furnace activity of Republic is at 60 per cent of capacity. The rapidly increasing rate of production indicates that the activities of the finishing mills will be speeded in the coming weeks.

Railroad circles look for a recommendation by the Interstate Commerce Commission on rail holding of railroad holding companies, which is likely to be contained in the report to be made to the committee by the two to the House by its Interstate Commerce Committee. The rate is also much in excess of the estimate for the steel industry in the country, which is now at around 80 per cent of capacity.
